HEALTH AND SAFETY SERVICES

Plansafe Health and Safety Services will provide all the professional advice and practical help you need to organise and improve the way you manage and practise health and safety in your workplace.

Our team of experts will save you time and money, as we draw on many years' experience of working with a wide range of businesses and organisations.

By providing all the services you need, from health and safety consultancy and management services to site inspections and Planning Supervision/CDM

Co-ordination, we make sure that you enjoy peace of mind and value for money.

Broad package of services

With clients in construction, engineering, forestry and many other industries, Plansafe's health and safety services are well known and respected for their professionalism and added value. For many of our clients who first come to us with a one-off project, it is the start of a long-term relationship, in which they can benefit from the whole range of services we offer.

Compliance with health and safety legislation is vital in every workplace, but for many businesses this can be a problem; they may have a poor existing system of health and safety management, or none at all. When the call to action comes – perhaps after a visit from the Health and Safety Executive or when a contractor is pressing for higher standards – Plansafe is ready to help.

Matthew McVeigh, Plansafe's experienced Director of Health and Safety Services, will discuss with you the support we offer. With a wide range of experience and skills in health and safety, integrated with general business management, he has worked for the company since 1997, becoming a Director of Plansafe in 2001. The broad package of services available will usually start with an audit of what is currently in place for health and safety in your workplace.

Our consultants will draw together the main documentation needed – health and safety policy, arrangements and organisation documentation, accident and incident procedure, risk assessment and COSHH assessment. We provide everything you need to keep up to date with health and safety legislation and to comply with all the regulations. When necessary, we will bring in associate consultants for specialisms such as noise and vibration assessments or thorough examinations of lifting equipment, occupational health and environmental services, amongst others. Through our colleagues in Plansafe Training Services, all personnel can be trained in health and safety management and practices.

We undertake planning supervision for construction projects, from small-scale eco-buildings to multi-million pound public sector developments. As the role of planning supervisor changes with the Construction (Design Management) Regulations in force from April 2007, we are providing the services of the new role of CDM Co-ordinator.

Health and safety management

We offer clients practical solutions for health and safety management, tailored to their own needs. These may involve contracts for a fixed period – for example, for putting documentation in place, or setting up a company health and safety committee.

For 'one-off' solutions for clients, Plansafe has developed a unique software package, SafetyPro. This is an easy-to-use system for health and safety management, designed to save you time and money. We tailor each package to your own sector or business, and provide full support so that you get the system up and running quickly.

As part of our supportive services, we offer clients annual contracts, helping them to comply with legislation. Inspection of workplaces and auditing of procedures, accident investigation and updating of documentation are among the services available. For construction clients, we perform regular 'spot' site inspections, conducted by our CITB-trained Scaffolding Inspector, to make sure that both employees and contractors are operating safely.

Plansafe has taken the lead in helping us make the Crichton Site safe for everyone here – staff, tenants and visitors.

John Edwards, Property Development Manager
Crichton Development Company

We have to consider health and safety at the very start of a project. Plansafe works with us from project planning through site inspection, maintaining a safe environment.
